Overall end of learning point:

In the listening skill, most learners can listen to and identify words and short phrases. They can understand the main points from a short, spoken passage made up of familiar language (a text, a dialogue, a short rhyme or a song). Most learners can listen to a short text using familiar vocabulary and answer simple questions in English/Spanish. Most learners are able to recognise questions (even when they are just formed by an inversion) and able to recognise that “no” implies a negative. They understand phrases used in daily classroom routine and more classroom instructions. They can hear more different sounds of the language and now work with phrases rather than single words.

In the speaking skill, most learners can communicate by asking and answering a wider range of questions while using correct pronunciation. They can follow a short text while listening and reading, saying some of the text. Learners can ask and answer simple questions and take part in a dialogue. They can also talk about their interests and express their opinion. Most learners can use a wider range of familiar nouns to talk about themselves, their family, pets and hobbies. They can also sing some more Spanish songs using the grammar skills they have learnt.

In the reading skill, most learners can read and understand familiar written phrases. They can read a wider range of words, phrases and sentences aloud. Most learners can understand the questions and main point(s) from a short, written passage in clear printed script. They can begin to use a bilingual dictionary to check the meaning of new words.

In the writing skill, most learners can write short sentences using word banks and writing frames for support. They can use expressions that they have already learnt. They begin to experiment with building short phrases from memory.

In the intercultural skill, most learners can talk about some celebrations/traditions and compare aspects of everyday life at home and abroad. They can also identify similarities in traditional stories/songs. They can also locate Spain on a world map and name a few main cities.
